Benefits and features:

Extensive audit:

Within 6 weeks, you will have a clear picture of how your digital accessibility compares to current and future legal requirements.

Preparatory training courses:

- During the period we carry out the audit, up to 10 of your employees can participate in training courses tailored to both general and role-specific digital accessibility.
- The training is on-demand, with digital courses that increase the team's knowledge before the audit handover.

Long-term strategy:

- The starter pack will be a basis for developing and maintaining your accessibility work over time.
- Funka also offers an extensive range of other services, trainings and products, which can support you after the starter pack.
- Our goal is always to ensure sustainable development in your continued work on digital accessibility.

Process and methodology

Our process combines audits and training to quickly clarify your accessibility status. With the support of our experts, you will be ready to meet legal requirements and continue your development.

W.1

Start meeting

We go through the process of the starter pack. You ensure that our expert has access to the relevant material for the analysis.

W.2

Audit against legal requirements

We use the European Commission's prescribed testing methodology, which ensures that the audit is in line with the European standard EN 301 549 and WCAG 2.1 AA.

W.3

We also include WCAG 2.2 AA to future-proof your efforts in digital accessibility.

W.4

Education and training

During the audit period, your team will have the opportunity for training, which will enhance your internal knowledge of digital accessibility. This preparation will enable you to understand the audit results and implement them effectively.

W.5

Delivery and handover meeting

You will receive the audits via our pedagogical web service well in advance of the handover meeting.

W.6

During the handover meeting, our certified experts provide you with a summary of the analysis. We ensure that you fully understand the content, have your questions answered, and know how to prioritise addressing any issues.

&gt; W.6

Continued support

After the handover meeting, Funka can offer additional services, training and products to help you maintain and develop your accessibility work.
